BRIGHT LIGHT SOLAR VCC LTD PRIVACY POLICY

1. Bright Light Solar VCC Ltd (“the VCC”) owns and operates this website under its own name. Any and all references to possessive pronouns such as “we”, “our” and “us” in this Privacy Policy refers to the VCC. By using this site, you agree that this Privacy Policy applies to you and you acknowledge and confirm that you understand the terms of this Privacy Policy. We also agree and confirm that we abide by the terms of this Privacy Policy as it relates to the manner in which we are able and permitted by you to request and store your personal information, collect and record that personal information and provide that personal information to third parties, in some instances.
2. All of our rights in terms of amendments, additions, subtractions, alterations, updates, modifications, or any other type of changes are reserved with regard to this Privacy Policy, and we can, at our sole and absolute discretion, effect any changes to portions, or the whole, of this Privacy Policy at any time. Since this Privacy Policy will be updated from time to time, you agree to review it periodically so that you may be fully updated on any changes that we may make.
3. We shall respect and protect the privacy of your information which we collect from you when you visit our website. This personal information includes all personal details that are capable of being utilised to identify an individual or entity (“personal information”), and we have developed this Privacy Policy to govern the manner in which this personal information will be dealt with.

Personal Information

4. We only collect your personal information if you voluntarily submit it to us via this website or if it is automatically recorded by our servers, or internet service provider, as a result of your device usage settings, or internet browser settings. For example, we typically collect and record personal information in order to provide you with further services and forward your enquiries to third parties. We will not process your information in a way that is inconsistent with any privacy law in the Republic of South Africa, and for this reason, we have concluded this Privacy Policy.

Use of Personal Information

5. Once personal information is submitted on, or through, our website, it is used for the purpose for which it was submitted and for no other purpose, unless such other purpose is related to the primary purpose for which it was submitted to, or through, the website. We may store correspondence containing personal information on our servers for record-keeping and reference purposes only.

Collecting Personal Information

6. When submitting any personal information to us through this website, we will collect personal information about you and/or your business so as to maximise our service offerings.

Disclosure in Certain Circumstances

7. There may be instances where, in circumstances where you have consented, or if, in our sole and absolute discretion, it is necessary to disclose certain personal information for purposes of identifying, communicating or bringing legal action against any third party who may be the cause of any harm, damages, losses, injuries or interference (whether intentionally, fraudulently or negligently) with, or to, any of our rights, property, other users, or anyone else, or because of any activity that may cause such harm, whether directly or indirectly.
8. There may also be instances where, in the exercise of good faith, and in our sole and absolute discretion, a disclosure is necessary by operation of law.
9. In general, and in the exercise of our discretion, we may disclose your personal information to any third party so that we may be able to meet your request for any goods or services that you have enquired about.

Security

10. Security and privacy of your personal information which is submitted to, on, or through our website is of paramount importance to us, and as a result of which, we shall review and update our security measures in light of current technologies from time to time. We confirm that, unfortunately, no transmission over the Internet is guaranteed to be fully secure.
11. We shall endeavour to take all reasonable steps in order to protect your personal information once you have submitted your personal information to us. Furthermore, our employees and the information systems specialists who operate this website are obliged to protect and respect the confidentiality of any personal information that passes through this website. We shall not be held liable for events arising from the unauthorised access of your personal information by any third parties.
12. Your IP address is sometimes used to assist in the diagnosis of certain problems and the troubleshooting of those problems with our website service. This information is gathered and collected in aggregate and therefore cannot be traced to an individual user.
13. Cookies are used to improve the users experience when interacting with our website service.
